

Husky Provides $50,000 Contribution to Saskatchewan Flood Relief Efforts

July 8, 2014 – Husky Energy is contributing $50,000 to support relief and recovery efforts following the recent heavy rainfall and flooding in Saskatchewan.

The donation is directed to the Canadian Red Cross campaign to support families as they recover from the disaster. The support includes emergency provisions, clean-up materials, replacement items for children, occupational and transportation support and replacement of essential health items.

“Many of our employees and their families live and work in Saskatchewan,” said CEO Asim Ghosh. “While the province has shown resilience in the face of this significant flooding, we are hopeful our contribution will provide an extra hand up to a neighbour in need.”
